That is about the size of the "noble tospiration" of the iffreeath amendment. But the Republican does not stop here. After making the suggestive statement that efforts to keep the negro vote solid for the Republican party did not cease with the withdrawal of Federal bayonets from the South, it adds:

"At every recurring election the negrowas told that Democratic supremacy meant the restoration of slavery, and he believed it and voted accordingly. That fear alone kept him in line, and that line alone was the prime cause of all the recent race troubles in the South.

"Now, however, the spell has been broken.

"Now, however, the spell has been broken. The Democracy has been in power nearly four years and slavery has not been restored. More than that, negroes have been appointed to office by a Democratic President and rejected by a Republican Senate. The relations of the two races in the South have never been so harmonious as during these last three years. The pretension that one great party in the republic is for freedom and the results of the war and the other for slavery and against the results of the war has been finally exploded."

The fact remains that one rarely meets a self-educated man who does not express regret that he did not start life with a college education. The self-aducated man, if he has sons, is, as a rule, withing to make any reasonable sacrifice in order to send them to college. And in this alone is a suggestion to fathers generally in Virginia who have sons old enough to enter college. Within about two months our higher institutions of learning will commence to open their doors for the reception of students. Greenesville county, nearly two years ago. He was sentenced to be hanged by Judge Hancock, in whose court he elected to be tried; but a writ of error was granted and a supersedeas awarded by one of the Judges of the Supreme Court, and Watson is now awaiting the decision of that tribunal on a review of his case. It hardly probable that the Supreme Court, after hearing the record in the case, will do otherwise than confirm the sentence of the Circuit Court. The evidence was so positive against the accused that it is believed there is little hope even for the granting of a new trial. When the case will come before the Supreme Court is not known, as there seems to be no hurry to press it. Meanwhile Watson is kept under the care of a special guard, as is the custom in the case of condemned murderers. Received from C. A. BEYCE, M.
